At the "Comique" Wednesday and Thursday "The Gamekeeper's Son."

Nothing finer in the line of neat, cleverly acted comedy, has been presented in a long time than this subject, which is a "film d'art." Every part is admirably taken and the entire production is of the highest order. The story is a gem of comedy construction.

The Bijou change of program to-day brings the picture, "Nuggets of Gold," to the front as a headliner. It is a picture of the rough and tumble life of the West of a few years ago, when law and order were dreamed of, but not in vogue. Of course there is a love story running through it to make it interesting. Genuine gold-digging, washing and sifting is shown, and also some famous mines. One other film of unusual merit is "Raised in the Country."

S. J. Segel and company, down in Scampani block, will hold a half price sale on Saturday to close out several small lots and odd sizes of men's and boys' summer suits, outing trousers, summer underwear, straw hats, odd vests, children's wash suits, men's fancy hose, etc. Do not buy until Saturday. It will pay you to wait. You will buy your clothing cheaper than the so-called cheapest. Look for the advertisement in Friday's paper.

"In the Sultan's Power" at the Dreamland theatre to-day is somewhat similar to the play "Granstark" which was shown here at the opera house last winter. It tells the story of a young American in foreign lands, who falls in love with the daughter of a French nobleman, who is betrothed to a Turkish count. The dashing young American does not find favor with her parents, but the girl secretly loves him. At last the sultan of Turkey, the man who was recently deposed, interferes and puts the American in prison, but he escapes and finally wins the girl he loves. Altogether, it is a fine picture.

VERMONTERS APPEARED WELL.

Attract Much Attention at Salt Lake City.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 11.—Headed by the Lyndonville band, the delegation from the Green Mountain state is attracting much attention and favorable comment at the G. A. R. encampment in this city. The veterans, 151 of them, appear well as affluent and staunch citizens of which any state would be proud. Their green badges, martial carriage and clean but appearance causes them to be singled out from the multitude of veterans here as they throng the streets.

TROOPS RETURN

On Way from Augusta to Plattsburg Barracks.

Portland, Me., Aug. 11.—The Plattsburg troops started on their march back to New York state from Augusta this morning. The war department refused them permission to attend the Bath old home week.

The Department of State.

There is an ancient tale of a treaty between two Greek states by which one was to return to the other, as a condition of peace, the half of its captured navy. The implementing of this treaty was accomplished with the saving of each trireme in two. Whether all the bows or all the sterns were given back does not come down to us in history. Some people probably think this might be done today. But diplomacy is as good as the national conscience.

The welfare of peoples rather than the ambition of rulers is the basis of the diplomacy of modern times. Mediaeval trickery has almost disappeared. What is wanted today is a good case for one's country and an able man to advocate it. It is very surprising, then, that there should linger as a heritage from the days gone forever the superstitious and conventional idea that diplomacy is polite dishonesty. That the idea does linger in the minds of persons unfamiliar with the subject is fully shown by the absurd use of the word "diplomatically" as almost synonymous with "disingenuously" and the survival of all such canting and misleading dogmas as the remark that "a diplomat is an honest man sent to lie abroad for his country."—National Magazine.

The Cancer Scourge.

In all probability cancer is the worst physical scourge with which we have to deal. It annually destroys half as many lives as tuberculosis, but it is an even greater menace because, whereas the mortality from tuberculosis steadily decreases year by year, that from cancer steadily increases. The actual facts even medical men themselves hesitate to discuss. How many realize, for example, that in England, of all women who have reached the age of thirty-five years, one in every eight dies of cancer and one in every eleven men? Yet the latest official report of the registrar general of England coldly declares that this is the present situation. Whether the same figures apply to the United States cannot be determined with available statistics, but as living conditions and medical practice represent about the same standards in both countries the probability is that they do.—McClure's Magazine.

The Hot Air Balloon.

It is related that the hot air balloon had its origin in a petteant. Mme. Montgolfier had washed her garment, intending to wear it to a great festival the next day, and hung it over a chafing dish to dry. The hot air swelled out its folds and floated it up into the air. The lady, in astonishment, called her husband to see the sight. He at once grasped the idea and was not long in producing the hot air balloon.

Weight of Brain.

The average weight of the human brain is forty-nine and a half ounces avoirdupois for males and forty-four ounces for females. In males the minimum weight is about thirty-four ounces and the maximum sixty-five ounces. In females the minimum weight is thirty-one ounces and the maximum fifty-six. In newborn infants the brain weighs about 11.55 ounces for the male and ten ounces for the female.
